Delivering Greater Value to Healthcare Organizations

The healthcare industry continues to deal with unprecedented change, as constantly evolving regulations and new business models have created challenges for healthcare organizations. This shifting landscape has also created new opportunities and risks for leading healthcare organizations. By augmenting in-house staff with seasoned professionals, healthcare providers can rise above compliance and operations efforts to pursue new markets and create value.

Crowe and CHAN: More Than the Sum of Their Parts

This strategic partnership delivers value to clients in three primary ways:

1. By combining resources, the two organizations strengthen existing services to meet the internal audit, risk management, and financial advisory needs of the changing healthcare industry.
2. Crowe and CHAN share company values, a commitment to quality and integrity, and a robust client base of healthcare providers, making the partnership seamless and maintaining continuity in client service.
3. The partnership significantly increases the breadth and depth of our combined healthcare team and builds on the impressive credentials and client base of CHAN.

With greater access to more resources and an expanded reach in the market, Crowe and CHAN are well-positioned to provide audit and consulting services to healthcare providers throughout the United States.

An Industry Leader With a Distinctive Client Service Model

As part of the strategic partnership, CHAN has retained its client-based associate model – a key differentiator in the market. CHAN's co-sourcing engagements offer internal audit professionals to healthcare systems on either a project basis or as dedicated full-time staff members, giving our clients a scalable resource as their needs evolve. CHAN currently maintains a permanent on-site presence in major tax-exempt healthcare networks across the United States, thus enabling agile and responsive service delivery.
